CLASS MOTTO: "Grant us the knowledge to know what is right and courage enough to do it."

It seems like only yesterday we entered school as kindergartners. Now the many years have flown by. We have given our last class play, gone to our last football game, waltzed through our last Prom, and yelled along with our classmates at our last pep meeting. So many things are finished, and yet, with commencement comes a whole new world of fun and excitement and responsibilities. Although our goals will take us in many different directions, our days in high school will always remain a treasured memory.

The Class of '63' began the year triumphantly by winning first prize in the Homecoming float competition with the beautiful swan entitled, "Gliding to Victory."

The class play, "You Can't Take It With You," was also a success and the time and effort spent was well worth it.

The prom, "Love Bug," was the climax of the eventful junior year. After many hours of planning and hard work, the Community Building was transformed into a beautiful garden decorated with flowers and insects.

BIG 4 CO-OP PROCESSING ASSOCIATION

The sophomore class proved that they were not "green" any longer by assuming new responsibilities. Many of the class members were active in various clubs, band, and chorus.

One of the highlights of the year was the building of the Homecoming float, "Hatching a Victory." Although they did not win a prize, they spent many enjoyable hours working on it. Later in the year, the class selected their class rings.

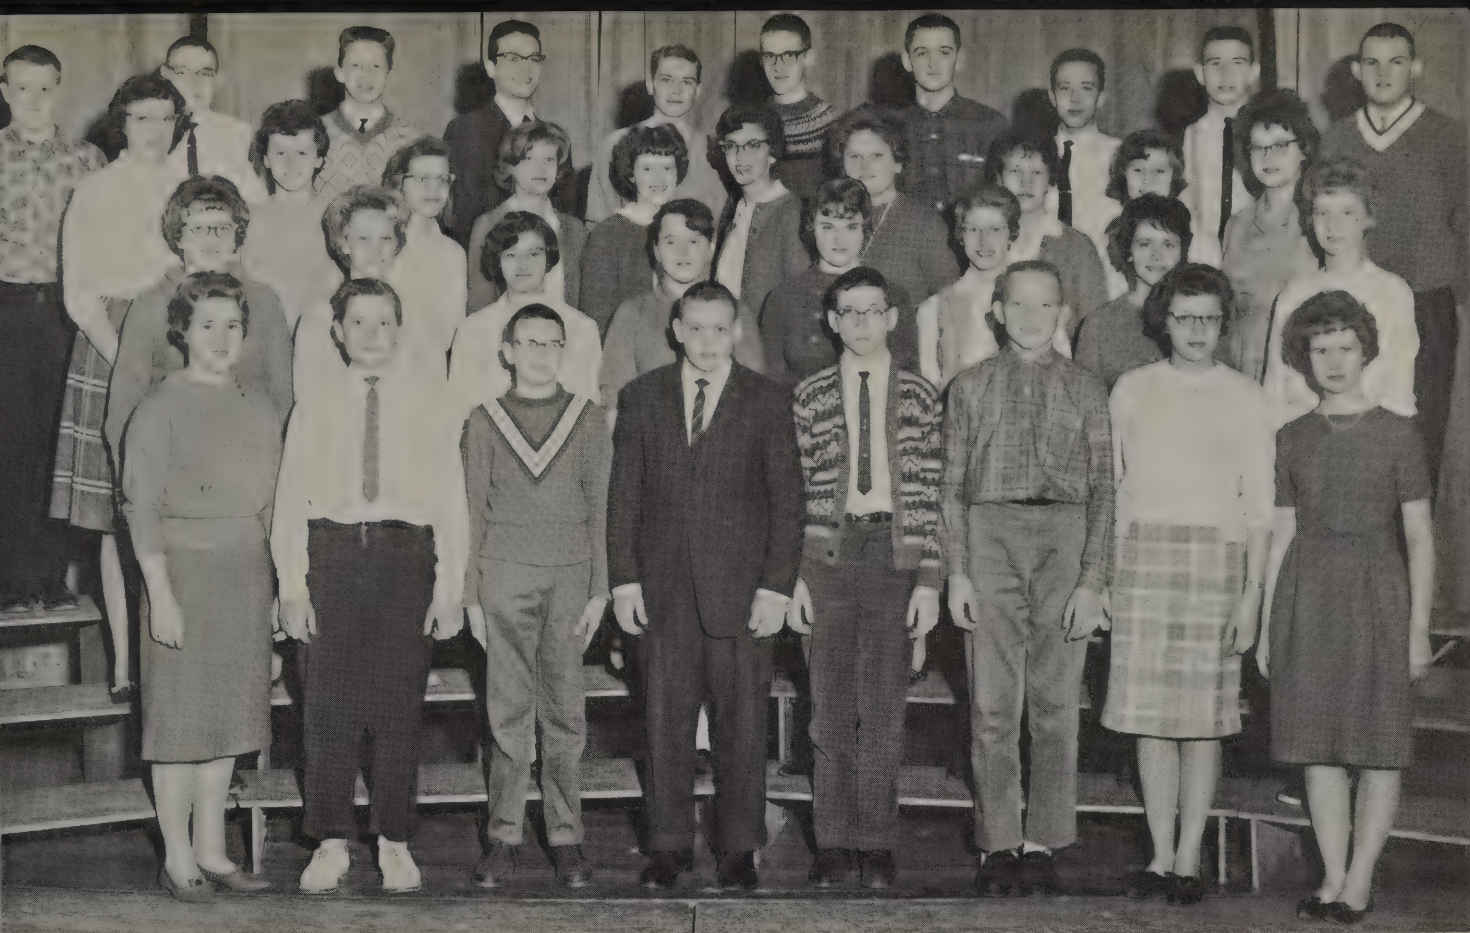

All in all, the sophomore class had an eventful year in which they combined work and talent to contribute to their class and school.

The freshmen proudly display their float on which they worked many long hours. Although they did not win a prize, they felt their theme was very original.

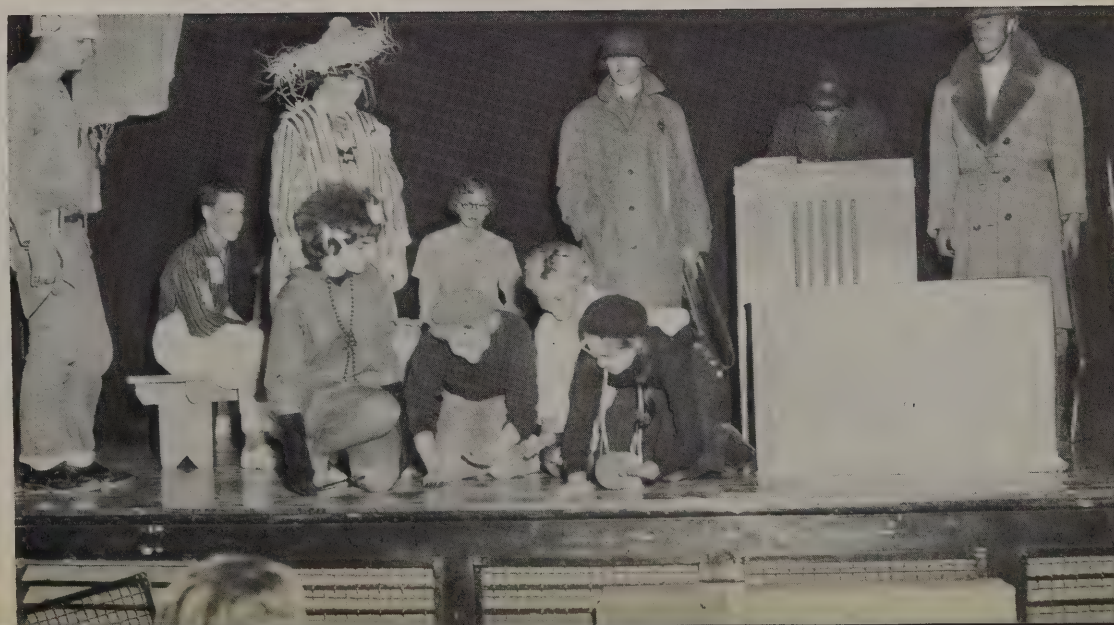

The school year of 61-62 was an exciting one for the freshmen. The first important date was Freshman Orientation Day when the new students became acquainted with the school.

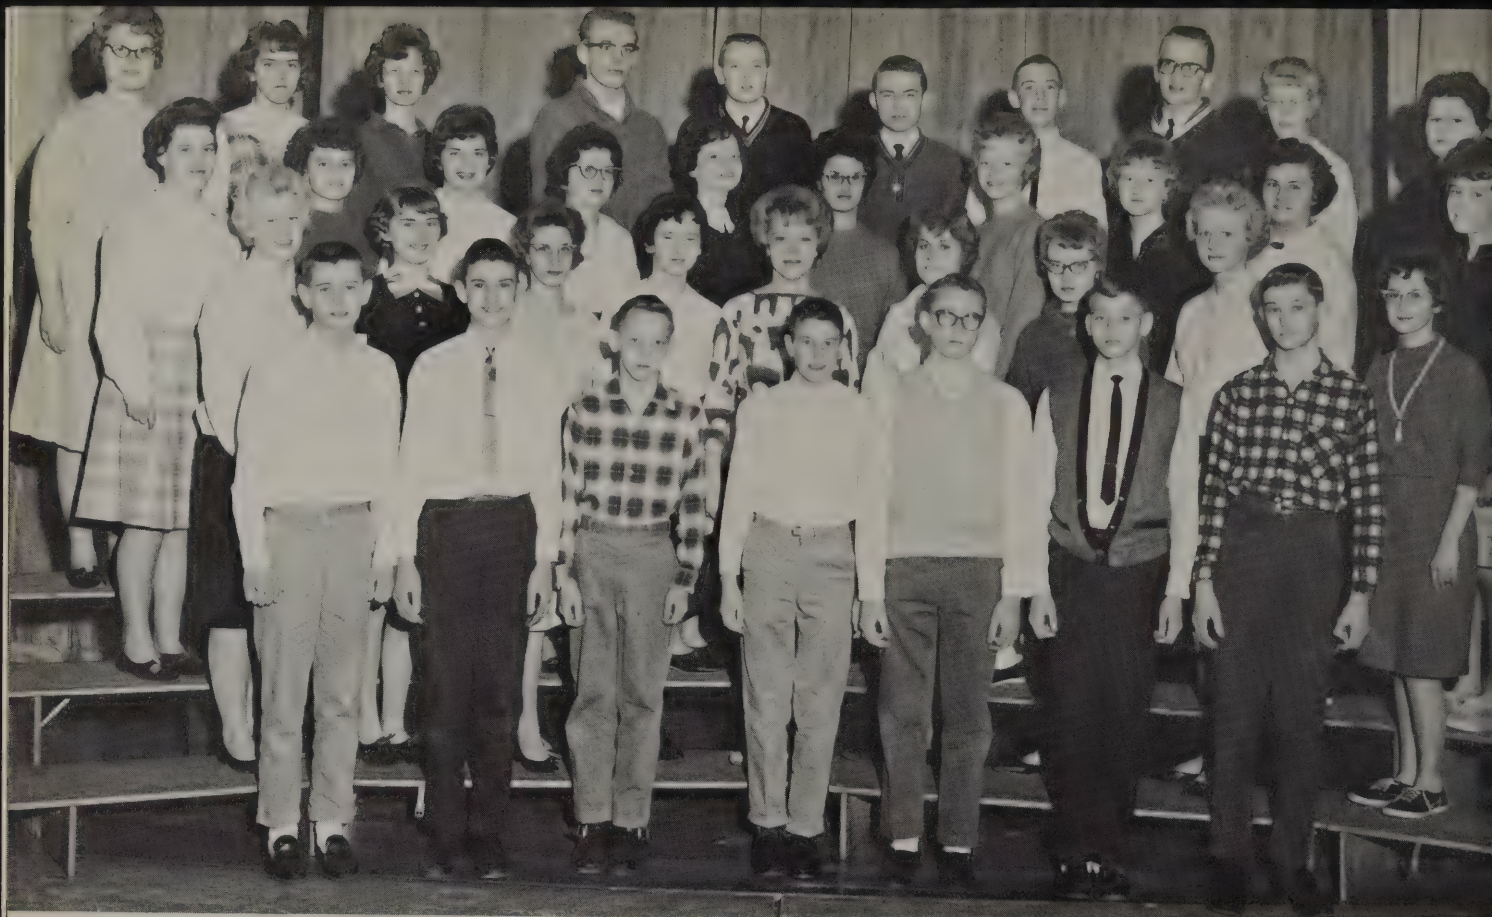

Freshmen Day was the big day for the freshmen, or seniors, depending upon how you look at it. The attention given the freshmen was merciless and painful, but they survived well. The "greenies" came in with a bang, that is, 150 in number, and also ended the school year with recognition. They can look back on a year that was both interesting and rewarding.

Organizations

The Student Council began its activities with the traditional Homecoming celebration. The council sponsored and organized Kangaroo Kourt, the dance, and the parade. It awarded cash prizes to the top two floats.

In October and November, members of the council attended meetings of the Iowa Association of Student Councils where student council problems were discussed.

The council was responsible for running the popcorn and concessions stand, sponsoring a Dress-up Day, organizing the school parties, and in general, helping the school to run more smoothly.

An enthusiastic group of lettermen under the supervision of Mr. Brower, Mr. Mathew, and Mr. Reisinger had a very successful year. This year the Club raised funds by sponsoring an evening of football films attended by many interested businessmen. They also sponsored an alumni-varsity basketball game. A special trip was taken to the Drake relays by all "S" Club members, which was paid for by the earnings of the "S" Club.

As the school year came to a close it was agreed by all, that the "S" Club had made an enthusiastic contribution to school spirit.

Orab Staff

Early in the fall, enthusiastic juniors and seniors began work on the 1962 yearbook. One of the first steps taken was the sale of sponsorships and subscriptions in which a record was set. Later in the year, as the stories and pictures were completed, the staff spent many long hours putting the finishing touches on the book.

Those holding important positions on the 1962 Orab were: Annette Pape, editor; Barb Hemerson and Mary Griffin, assistant editors; Barb Bossman copy editor; Howard Sterling, business manager; Mike Wells, are editor; and Jackie Hastings, photography editor.

Oracle and Quill & Scroll

Twenty-three students combined their talents and efforts to produce ten copies of the S. H. S. newspaper, The Oracle. New features which proved quite popular included Classified Ads, and That Wonderful Year. In addition to numerous features, the paper included latest news articles concerning student activities.

Mrs. Roghair acted as sponsor of the Oracle and Barbara Hemerson as the editor. They were assisted by Howard Sterling as assistant editor and Bill Noack as business manager.

Members elected to the Quill and Scroll honorary journalistic society on the basis of their work on the Orab and Oracle were-seated: K. Nelson, B. Hemerson, A. Pape, M. Griffin, V. Fischer. Standing: S. Ferguson, K. Baxter, B. Noack, H. Sterling, B. Bossman.

Science Club

Science Club, under the supervision of Mr. Jones, had a profitable and interesting year. Various group and individual projects acquainted the club with more advanced scientific principles, and proved to them that science can be fun. Throughout the year, one of these projects was presented at each meeting and many new principles were learned by all.

Putting up a bulletin board are F.T.A. officers, Bill Struyk, President; Pam Den Hartog, Vice President; and Vivian Fischer, Secretary-Treasurer. Karen Nelson, recipient of the scholarship award, is helping them.

F. T. A.

The Future Teachers' Club, sponsored by Mrs. Camp participated in various activities throughout the school year. Besides practice teaching, they attended an F.T.A. Day at Westmar College in the fall and spent a day in April observing the classrooms of their choice in the school system.

The highlight of the year came when it was announced that Karen Nelson had won the Teachers' Club scholarship of $50.

URBAN'S LUNCH

The Sheldon Chapter of the Future Homemakers enjoyed many activities during the year. Some of the highlights were a trip to Sioux Falls orphanage, Sweetheart's Ball, and a candy sale.

Future Farmers of America

The FFA chapter of Sheldon High was active in several areas of FFA work this year. Members went on several field trips, judging sheep, cattle, and swine. Other projects included a competitive seed corn sale. Both the O'Brien and Sioux County fairs had representative entries from the Sheldon chapter. One of the members, Bob Nieuwendorp, became a State Farmer, the highest honor that can be conferred by the FFA on the state level. Several members earned trophies for various other activities in the FFA such as showmanship, parliamentary procedure, and speech activities.

Athletics

The mighty Orabs started fast and finished fast in the 1962 football season. Blasting off with a 26-6 win over Hartley, the Orabs were never headed or scored upon until the big game with Cherokee. In an offensive battle, both teams played great football. The Braves won this round with a 34-27 score before a crowd that excelled all others in Sheldon Football history. The following week, however, the tables were turned and the Orabs came back with a convincing 26-3 win over Storm Lake, while the Braves were scalped by the Sibley Generals 27-25. This upset resulted in a much deserved co-championship finish for the Orabs.

ALL-CONFERENCE AND ALL-STATE HONORS WENT TO THE FOLLOWING ORABS:

- Art Andringa..... All-Conference defensive tackle--1st team All-Northwest Iowa--4th team Associated Press All-State
- Doyle Rolston All-Conference offensive center and defensive line-backer--3rd team All-Northwest Iowa
- Tom Pohlen..... All-Conference offensive quarterback--3rd team All-Northwest Iowa
- Don Schuldt..... All-Conference defensive half-back
- Ron Schultz..... All-Conference offensive end
- Bob Wesselink... All-Conference defensive guard
- Bill Van Dyke.... All-Conference honorable mention at tackle
- Rich Fedders.... All-Conference honorable mention at halfback

"King and I"

THE KING AND I

In the midst of the palace life, of the King of Siam in the 1860's appears Anna Leonowens (Judy Barnes) and her son, Louis. The King (Steve Ferguson) has hired Anna to teach the ways of Western civilization to the royal princes, princesses, and wives.

Once in the palace, Anna is comforted by the head wife, Lady Thiang (Bonnie Williams) and the Kralahome or prime minister (Ross Ballou) who worships his highness; as well she becomes the patron of the slave Tuptim (Pam Den Hartog) and her lover (Dave Coon) who hate and fear the King.

The arrival of the British emissary (Howard Sterling); the escape of the slave Tuptim, and an argument between Anna and the King; and the King's eventual death helped to develop the tensions of this fine musical drama.

Others in the cast included: L. Rolston, V. Fischer, R. Fonkert, R. Brink, H. Brandts, C. Van Heuvelin, M. Hansen, P. Hofmeyer, M. Van Dyke, K. Nelson, D. Hofmeyer, R. Martin, E. Petersen, K. Baldwin, B. Faust, J. Mulder, S. Lensink, L. Wolf, T. Van Meeteren, M. Banger, B. Van Dyke.

"The King and I" was directed by Leroy Prescott and Earl Beals who were assisted by Olive Lee and Harold Tuttle.

Has Successful Reign

Members of the cast include: S. Monster, M. Van Dyke, S. Bilsland, R. Ballou, H. Sterling, M. Moriarty, J. Shaner, N. Postma, D. Dummett, D. Sterler, Bill Struyk, R. Morse, D. Bossard, E. Miller, R. Schwartz, V. Fischer.

Juniors Insist, "You Can't Take It With You"

M. Van Dyke - Alice and S. Bilsland - Tony were the two romantic leads of the play.

The junior class play, a comedy entitled "You Can't Take It With You," was presented as a climax to many weeks of hard work and effort on the part of the cast and their director, Miss Olive Lee. The plot concerns the impact of the irrepressible Sycamore family on Alice Sycamore's fiance and his family. The snow caused postponements, but through everyone's cooperation, the performances were successful and proved that the junior class had its share of dramatic ability.

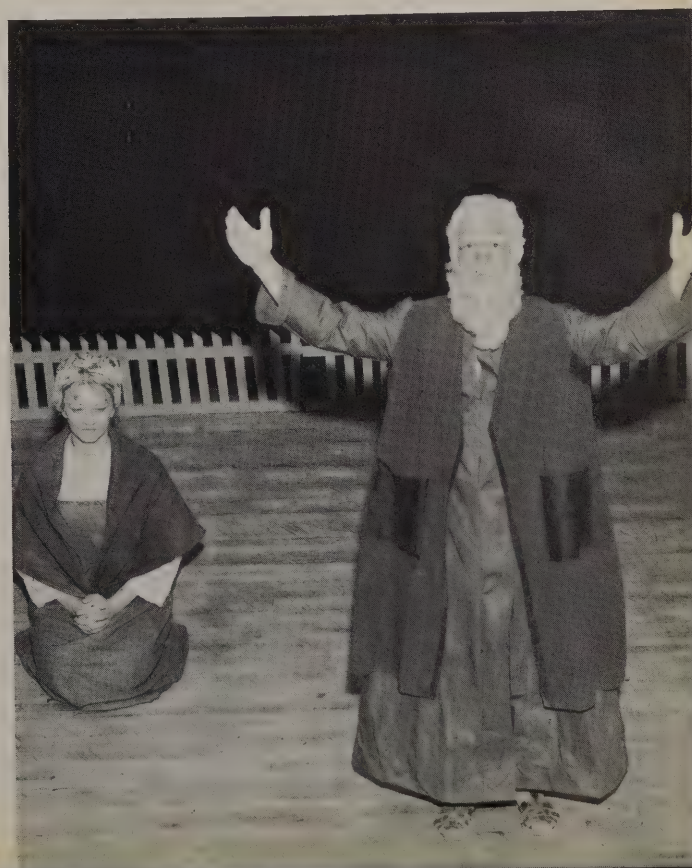

Seniors Do Pro Job on "Noah"

B. Van Dyke-Noah and J. Mulder-Mama were the two leads in the play.

The Senior Class Play, NOAH, under the direction of Mr. Leroy Prescott was presented on Tuesday, May 1.

The play, which is a Biblical fantasy based on the tale of Noah and the Ark, used skeletal settings, but realistic costumes to help convey its message. Humor, pathos, and drama are involved as the tensions and reactions of the characters aboard the ark are revealed.

The excellent cast included Bill Van Dyke in the title role; Joyce Mulder as his wife; Pam Den Hartog, Rod Fonkert, Mike Hanson, Malene Mulder, Don Schuldt, and Laura Wolf as the children; and Jim Braselton as a representative of the general populace. Costumes were designed and executed by Miss Olive Lee, Elaine Vanden Brink, and Karen Nelson. Steve Ferguson was in charge of lighting effects.

SEATED: H. Sterling, E. Stegeman, R. Vanderburg, M. Mulhern. STANDING: J. Peterson, Mr. Wiese, K. Ling, J. Feyerabend, G. Boone, D. Vander Linden.

SHS Debate Teams

Experienced debaters check over their notes for the impending debate.

"That the federal government would equalize educational opportunity in elementary and secondary education." This was the topic the Sheldon team spent the year debating. Cross-examination was used during the year at several tournaments. It made the debates much more interesting since it required quicker thinking.

First team debaters were Esther Stegemann, Robert Vanderburg, Howard Sterling, and Jim Petersen. Debating for their first year were Kay Ling, Joan Feyerabend, Gail Boone, Michael Mulhern, and Dennis Vander Lindon. Mr. Wiese acted as moderator for the debate team.

FIRST ROW: B. Williams, T. Evans, J. Hastings, D. Mulhern, J. Roelfs, D. Redinius.

Ross Ballou and Toni Evans look over their state speech awards. Ross received a "one" for his dramatic reading while Toni received a "one" for her humorous reading.

Speech Contestants

The year 1961-62 was an eventful one for the speech department. The speech contestants were coached by Mrs. Speake, who was in charge of the humorous and dramatic areas; Miss Lee, who coached interpretive reading of prose and poetry; and Mr. Prescott, who helped Steve Ferguson direct the one-act play.

After an elimination contest held in Sheldon, twelve contestants and the one-act play advanced to the district contest at George, where Ross Ballou and Toni Evans received 1's in the dramatic and humorous divisions. They went on to the state competition at Fort Dodge where they again earned 1 ratings.

The accompanists, L. Wolbrink, N. Postma, L. Rolston, N. Snyder, and V. Fischer, seated; worked many long hours practicing with the choir during rehearsal.

Concert Choir

In the vocal music department, over one hundred students are given an increased knowledge and appreciation of music. Music sung by the concert choir ranges from serious sacred music to show tunes. In November the musical, "The King and I", was presented. The concert choir, and band cooperated to present a Christmas concert. Also in December, the concert choir performed on television. The spring concert took place in April, and in May, sixteen entries from the concert choir competed in the state solo and ensemble contest in Hartley. The choir ended its year by singing for Baccalaureate and Commencement.

The band, consisting of over a hundred members, had a full schedule of appearances. Twelve summer concerts were given as well as half-time shows at each home football game. The marching band went to Turkey Day in Worthington and the Tulip Festival in Orange City. A small orchestra played for the musical and the pep bands added to school spirit at basketball games and pep meetings. Individual musicians received recognition at the state solo and ensemble contest, Northwest Iowa Band, and All-State Band. The band ended a successful year by marching on Memorial Day.

Early in April, Sheldon's ninety-eight piece marching band took part in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D. C. This trip was made possible only after much hard work on the part of the band and cooperation from the community. For months in advance, the band sponsored several money-making projects such as candle-making, car washing, and selling fruit cakes. The six day tour, made by chartered bus, included many of the points of interest in and around our nation's Capitol. The group enjoyed tours through the Capitol Building, the White House, and Washington Cathedral. The band members were particularly impressed by the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials. On its final day in Washington, the band marched in the Cherry Blossom parade, visited Mount Vernon, and went on a cruise down the Potomac.

These students are wearing one of the most popular fads of the year--long shirts.

These girls caused a sensation with their new flip hairdos, adorned with colorful bows.

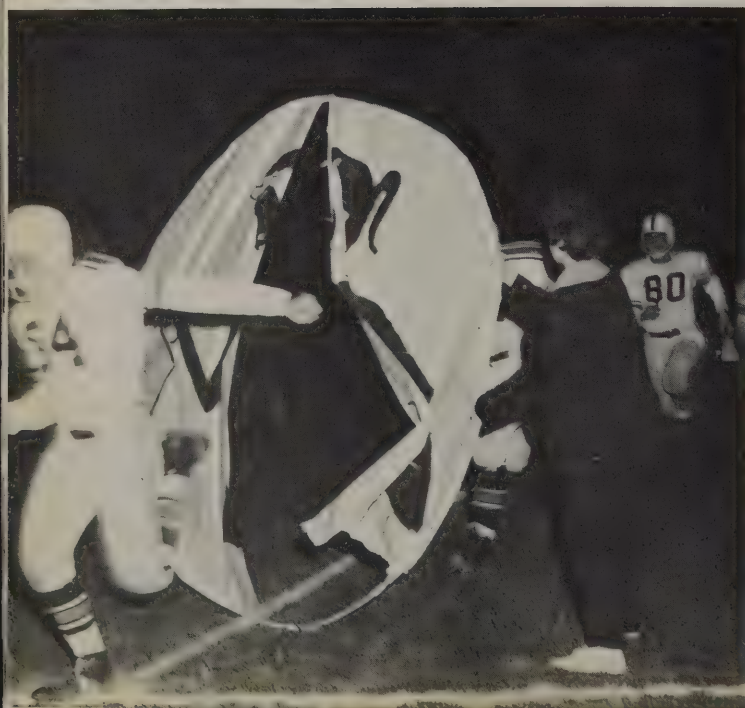

As can be seen, there were a variety of fads in footwear in the school year of 1961-62

Members of the freshman class demonstrate their talents to senior, Pam Den Hartog.

Football captain Doyle Rolston reflects the spirit of the night as he leaps through the hoop.

Captain Doyle Rolston crowns the 1961 Homecoming Queen, Barbara Hemerson.

The day began with a host of anxious freshmen and a revengeful lot of upperclassmen "bums" parading and demonstrating their talents in the halls. Kangaroo Kourt proved very exciting and was climaxed by the election of Hobo "King," Henrietta Van Riesen, and Hobo "Queen," Steve Lensink. The juniors were the proud possessors of first prize in the float judging with their swan, "Gliding to Victory," one of the nicest floats Sheldon has seen for some time. The seniors received the second prize with their float, "They're Done For."

In the pre-game ceremony, everyone's mounting speculations were relieved when Barb Hemerson was crowned Queen. Lila Konkler and Donna Poppen were the attendants. During the pre-game ceremonies, Ray Toothaker, the first Sheldon football captain, was introduced.

The Orabs, keeping up with the victorious spirit of the entire day, beat Emmettsburg to win their sixth consecutive game.

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom was held May 4, at the Community Building. The decorations carried out the theme "Love Bug." The meal was served by the sophomore boys at the appropriately decorated banquet tables. James Petersen, junior class president, served as toastmaster. The program consisted of a pantomime by Ross Ballou, "Moments to Remember", sung by the junior girls' quartet, and "Dance of the Reed Flutes" played by the junior girls' flute trio. The speaker, Mr. LeVake, was enjoyed by all. The ballroom, the pride of the Juniors, was decorated with large and small bugs, butterflies, and gossamer fireflies. The centerpieces were small garden settings with flowers and angel-hair trees decorated with bugs. As the couples danced into the wee hours of the morning to the strains of Gus Hahn's band, they treasured these "Moments to Remember."
